

Designed by the Northern California all women's race team, Velo Bella, the Lisa RD Supreme is our focus in getting women on a design that compliments their natural form and position. By using lightweight Dedacciai Hydroform Aluminum with Carbon seat stays, these bikes are specifically designed for women's road racing.

Our Kona Queen Kikapu began with our highly successful dual suspension Kikapu line, and then we re-designed these bikes to focus on the needs of women cross country racers. Areas such as saddles, grips, top tube length, and stems proved to be in need of tweaking. The result was a women's specific off road racing bike capable of World Cup off-road competition.

Building from the Queen Kikapu, the Lisa DS brings racing knowledge and design right into our DS living room. We use the same design principles discovered with the Queen Kikapu, to build a women's dual suspension fit for just about any cross-country terrain.

There are times when a hard tail mountain bike is a preferred method of blazing trails. The Kula name implies that it carries years of World Cup innovation, and the Lisa part means that if your name is Bruce, you're stepping in the wrong part of the catalog.
